USAID Long-Term Assistance and Services for Research (LASER) Request for Applications – Possible UC Davis Collaborators

The International Programs Office in the College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences is submitting a concept note for USAID's new cooperative agreement, the Long-Term Assistance and Services for Research (LASER). If you have any interest in this proposal or a possible collaboration, please join us at an informational meeting Thursday, January 11 from 4-5 p.m. at the UC Davis International Center, Room 3119.

Through LASER, USAID hopes to leverage the intellectual prowess, knowledge, and in-country experience of university partners to co-create research solutions to pressing development challenges.
